A message from the Kurdistan Communist Party
To the international communist and workers' parties

- Dear comrades,
- Leaders of the international communist and workers parties

The news from Ukraine raises great concern among all powers and countries that are interested in ending tensions and averting the dangers of war that will be a catastrophe for all humanity.

Preserving world peace is a common cause that concerns all our parties and comes among the priorities of our common struggle to curb the schemes of global imperialism that push humanity to the brink of war and threaten the working class and the rest of the working people in the world, in addition to threatening all of humanity.

The trend to beat the drums of war, expand NATO and carry out military maneuvers in many parts of the world, and the quantitative developments that took place during the past two decades in international relations, and the continuation of rivalries in international politics, embody to indicate a qualitative development represented in the end of one polarity, and the emergence of a certain form From an amorphous pluralism in its nature, which is supposed to create a kind of balance that may create opportunities for the progressive forces in the world to be able to exploit them to serve the peoples' cause, resolve outstanding issues and reduce hotbeds of tension by resolving issues based on the interests of the peoples and their free choices.

The main goal of contemporary capitalism and its military plans and NATO policies is to employ the direction of militarism through an increase in the arms race and expansion in military spending to distract from what is happening in the world of great disparity in wealth and the control of a capitalist minority that expresses financial capital in the wealth of mankind at a time of increasing poverty rates Unemployment and the expanding circle of marginalized groups in the world. Therefore, we see that what is happening is another form of the aggravation of the crisis of contemporary capitalism and its attempts to divide the markets again, especially in the field of energy.

We in the Kurdistan Communist Party - Iraq, and on the basis of our being within the group of international communist and workers parties, we send this message to the leaders of our friendly parties to take a common position and publish a joint statement expressing the direction of our movement and carrying out joint national and global activities within our main destination to expose the trends of global capitalism and the schemes of American imperialism and NATO that threaten world peace, and directing world public opinion to exercise its pressing role in order to resolve all outstanding issues peacefully and by appealing to the will of the peoples and their free choices, and methods of international governance, and shedding light on the importance of sustainable development issues and the solidarity of peoples to combat the manifestations of corruption and environmental pollution, and joint action by In order for the issues of combating poverty, unemployment and gender equality to be global issues on international politics.
